

The Interior Journal.

E. C. WALTON

We see from an interview given out by Congressman Harvey Helm on his return to Washington that he will introduce bills for the erection of public buildings at the following towns in his district: Shelbyville, Lancaster and Harrodsburg, running from $100,000 for Shelbyville to smaller appropriations for the other two named towns. As the Lancaster postoffice receipts are not as large as Stanford's by several thousand dollars, and Stanford's about the same as Harrodsburg, the INTERIOR JOURNAL would like to know if Stanford, the home of Congressman Helm, is not a part of the Eighth Congressional district and entitled to fair consideration at that gentleman's hands from a public building standpoint? We are for the upbuilding of Stanford and for the betterment of Lincoln county and we propose in the future, as well as in the past, to continue to preach that doctrine to the best people that God ever let the sun shine upon. We have plenty of beautiful sites, especially the old Seminary grounds on Main Street, to locate a handsome structure upon, which in the days to come we can point to with pardonable pride and which would put a loyal constituency under lasting obligations to the one who caused it to be erected in one of the best towns on the map and splendid officials to occupy it. When Senator James B. McCreary, of Richmond, was in Congress, among other of his good traits, was the fact that he was ever loyal to his home; people first, which endeared him to their hearts always. He had placed in that beautiful city a public building at a cost of $125,000 or more and it will ever be a monument to his memory when he has crossed over the river to rest under the shade of the trees. We would like to know why Stanford is not deserving of a beautiful public building that would, in every way, be commensurate with our little city, her High School building and the handsome new $35,000 court-house, which is now nearing completion. We would not pluck from the brows of any of the above towns any laurels they deserve, but we would crown Stanford with that wreath of gold she is so justly entitled to wear. How about it, Mr. Congressman?

In his annual report Secretary of Agriculture Wilson shows how the consumer has been gouged by the meat sellers, but his statement was unnecessary in face of the fact that Armour & Co. alone made a gross profit for the year of $10,582,000 on a capital stock of $23,000,000, and a net dividend of 35 per cent. The packers' committee recently made the statement that the packer being obliged to pay a higher price for live stock passed on the additional cost to the dealer, who in turn shifted it to the consumer. Even this fails to account for the increase in two years of $5 a barrel for mess beef. The concern that makes 35 per cent. of its patrons can only do so by the rankest extortion. What's the matter with giving the beef trust a taste of the Standard Oil medicine?

KENTUCKY is noted for other things besides blue grass land, pretty women and fast horses. She leads all the other States in tobacco growing, producing more than one-third of the crop of this country and one-ninth of the entire crop of the world. Some tobacco is produced in almost every State, but less than one per cent. of the country's crop is grown west of the Mississippi river. Texas is the only trans-Mississippi State in which the industry has gained much importance. The largest crop of tobacco ever raised was this year. More than 50,000,000 pounds of cigar tobacco and four times that quantity of other kinds of tobacco is the estimate of the agricultural department.

A WASHINGTON dispatch says that Attorney Lewis L. Walker, of Lancaster, has been agreed on for district attorney of the Eastern district of Kentucky, and that Sawyer Smith, of Harrodsburg, will be his assistant. We object to the latter proposition seriously, as we want to see Hon. George M. Davison, of this place, retain his present position. His record in office has been clean and he is in every way fitted for the place. We hope the Department of Justice will retain the clever assistant district attorney from Lincoln county.

KENTUCKY ranks third in the list of Internal Revenue payments with Illinois first and New York second. In the total of $246,212,719.22 Kentucky contributed $28,130,420.34, which is only $400,000 less than New York. There was a decrease of over five and a half millions in the revenue due in large measure to the prohibition movement. Beer production also decreased while the tax on tobacco largely increased, showing that people must have stimulants of some kind, at least they seem to think so.

A NEW YORK multi-millionaire gave the man who saved him from drowning, $5,000. In this valuation of himself, the gentleman displays little of the characteristics of Harry K. Thaw, who was decided by the court to suffer from an aggravated case of exaggerated ego.

THE family residence at Washington of John G. Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury under Cleveland, was attached by an United States marshal for a claim of $2,385 for diamonds and other jewelry. The itemized list includes a three-stone diamond ring and a solitaire diamond valued at $1,200, another diamond ring $500, a ruby and diamond ring $200, another diamond ring $275, gold and diamond links $150 and a string of gold beads $60. The question naturally arises what did Mr. Carlisle want with so much jewelry and why with his salary then and large law practice since he doesn't pay for it?

FEARING a trade war with Canada some of the leading Congressmen will try to have the tariff on wood pulp and print paper modified as soon as Congress meets. If the law-makers have been as sensible as they seem to have been anxious to put a tariff on knowledge they would have obviated the danger in the first place.

SENATOR R. L. HUBBLE will introduce a bill in the next Legislature, taking Casey county out of the 11th district and putting it in the 8th district, thereby giving the gallant and fighting democrats of Casey a chance to be factors in Kentucky politics. It is a good bill and we hope the Senator will be able to pass it.

THE farmer is nearly always independent, but this year each one of them is a king. Secretary Wilson in his annual report, says that this year's crop is worth $8,760,000,000, a gain over 1908 of $869,000,000. Everything the farmer has to sell is in demand at higher prices than ever. Who wouldn't be a farmer if he could?

THE Louisville Herald has reduced to one cent a copy, a decided innovation in newspaperdom at the Fall City. A paper like the Herald can not be produced for a cent and it is foolish to sell it at that price. We have heard of no one kicking on the price of newspapers. They are certainly cheap enough now.

IN Missouri a pistol "toter" was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary, under the new law making it a felony to carry one. That is a pretty stringent law, but when it is considered that most men who carry pistols have murder in their hearts it is not too severe.

A ST. LOUIS jury broke the will of a millionaire because it was proved that he took five drinks before making it. Unless he was mighty used to it, we should say as a matter of fact that he was not capable of proper distribution of so much money.

"WE have just made a pleasant discovery. Fifty-three pay days in 1910," says the Louisville Times. This is evidently from the hired editor's standpoint. The boss is certainly not going in raptures over it.

GERTRUDE ATHERTON, the novelist, says she would rather go to hell than to Chicago. It would doubtless be the same to her if Christ should come and order all to the lower place who belong there.

ARMOUR & Co. earned $7,126,924 net on its $20,000,000 capital stock during the year closed Nov. 1, a profit of 35 per cent. No wonder meat stuffs are high and still advancing.

PRESIDENT TAFT's message to Congress, which convened yesterday, forms perhaps the most vital and interesting source of news in the United States during the present week.

A SCHOOL for husbands with a course in hooking dresses up the back is proposed. It might be a good idea if the masculine fingers could be made not to act as all thumbs.

CRANBERRIES are the cheapest things on the market. Those who can not afford turkey can make a show at a part of the necessities at any rate.

A NEW YORK man got an injunction against his wife for incessant talking over the telephone. Most husbands would do the same thing if they dared to.

POLITICAL.

Senator W. O. Coleman, of Henry county, has withdrawn from the race for prison commissioner.

Gov. John F. Shafroth, of Colorado, in a speech at New York before the Equal Franchise League, said woman suffrage has proved a success in Colorado and predicted that it would become universal in the United States.

Representative Ransdell, of Louisiana, president of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, which meets at Washington next Wednesday, conferred with the President about the speech the Chief Executive will make upon the opening of the Congress.

R. L. McCormick, the richest man in Tacoma, Wash., wants to succeed Senator Piles, as he prides himself on being a self-made man and on the fact that he never has had on a necktie. Those are two points against him. The self-made man is too often proud of the job and the other claim makes him fill the bill of what Sut Lovingood would call a natural born darn fool.
